SCI-Arc Announces new Partnership with Nike

Los Angeles, CA (01/11/2018) – SCI-Arc is excited to announce a new and engaging partnership with Nike, Inc. Students from SCI-Arc will have an opportunity to travel to the Nike’s world headquarters in Beaverton, Oregon for a 5-day brainstorming session with members of the Nike design team. The session will focus on the intersection of design, architecture, technology and sustainability. SCI-Arc faculty include M. Casey Rehm, Rachael McCall, Benjamin H. Bratton and Vice Director John Enright with Director Hernan Diaz Alonso serving as advisor.

“SCI-Arc is more than a school of architecture. It is where art, science, and industry converge and new futures unfold,” says Diaz Alonso. “We’re thrilled for our students to have the opportunity to collaborate with the innovators at Nike.”

The workshop will take place in February, 2018.

About SCI-Arc

Southern California Institute of Architecture (SCI-Arc) is dedicated to educating architects who will imagine and shape the future. It is an independent, accredited degree-granting institution offering undergraduate and graduate programs in architecture. Located in a quarter-mile-long former freight depot in the Arts District in Downtown Los Angeles, the school is distinguished by its vibrant studio culture and emphasis on process. SCI-Arc’s approximately 500 students and 80 faculty members, most of whom are practicing architects, work together to re-examine assumptions, create, explore and test the limits of architecture. SCI-Arc faculty and leadership have garnered more than 500 national and international design awards and recognitions, including Progressive Architecture awards, American Institute of Architects (AIA) awards, and the prestigious Jencks and Pritzker architecture prizes. U.S. DesignIntelligence recently ranked SCI-Arc #4 in Graduate Programs Most Admired by Deans and Chairs in its 2018 America’s Best Architecture Schools survey. SCI-Arc’s Undergraduate program ranked #8 in the DesignIntelligence 2018 survey. SCI-Arc is located at 960 E. 3rd Street, Los Angeles, CA 90013. www.sciarc.edu
